Mufungulwa Maurice Anakoka was born on the 19th July, 1964. He did his Primary, Secondary, and Tertiary Education in the two countries of Zambia and South Africa. He has been running Family Life Education Seminars since 1984, and has run these in the three countries of Zambia, Botswana, and South Africa. Apart from these Seminars, he runs workshops on Management and Training Issues, and serves the Mahikeng Community as a Motivational Speaker, since 2004. He has contributed numerous articles to Mafikeng Mail News Paper on issues of Family Life since January 2008, and has coined an Evaluation Training Model (ETM). He has contributed to graduations of many University students by offering private research supervision at Honours, Masters, and Doctorate Levels. He is married to one wife, Sibupiwa Ilwange Anakoka, and has been blessed with three beautiful children: Mufungulwa, Sepo, and Tabo. He is a member of Mahikeng Service Point for Social Development Reference Group, Chief Executive Officer for Elijah Institute for Life Skills Education and Assistant Publishing Director for the North West Region of South Africa of the Trans Orange Conference for the Seventh-day Adventist World Church. He currently holds five University Credentials, including the Doctor of Philosophy in Adult Education.

This book may help someone who has realized the need to learn how to manage Family Life because there is no school where people go to learn on how to actively and optimally perform in marriage. The book gives great ideas to those willing to constructively deal with challenges in the 21st Century. These ideas have helped many people in South Africa, so they may help anyone willing to learn from the South African Experiences.
